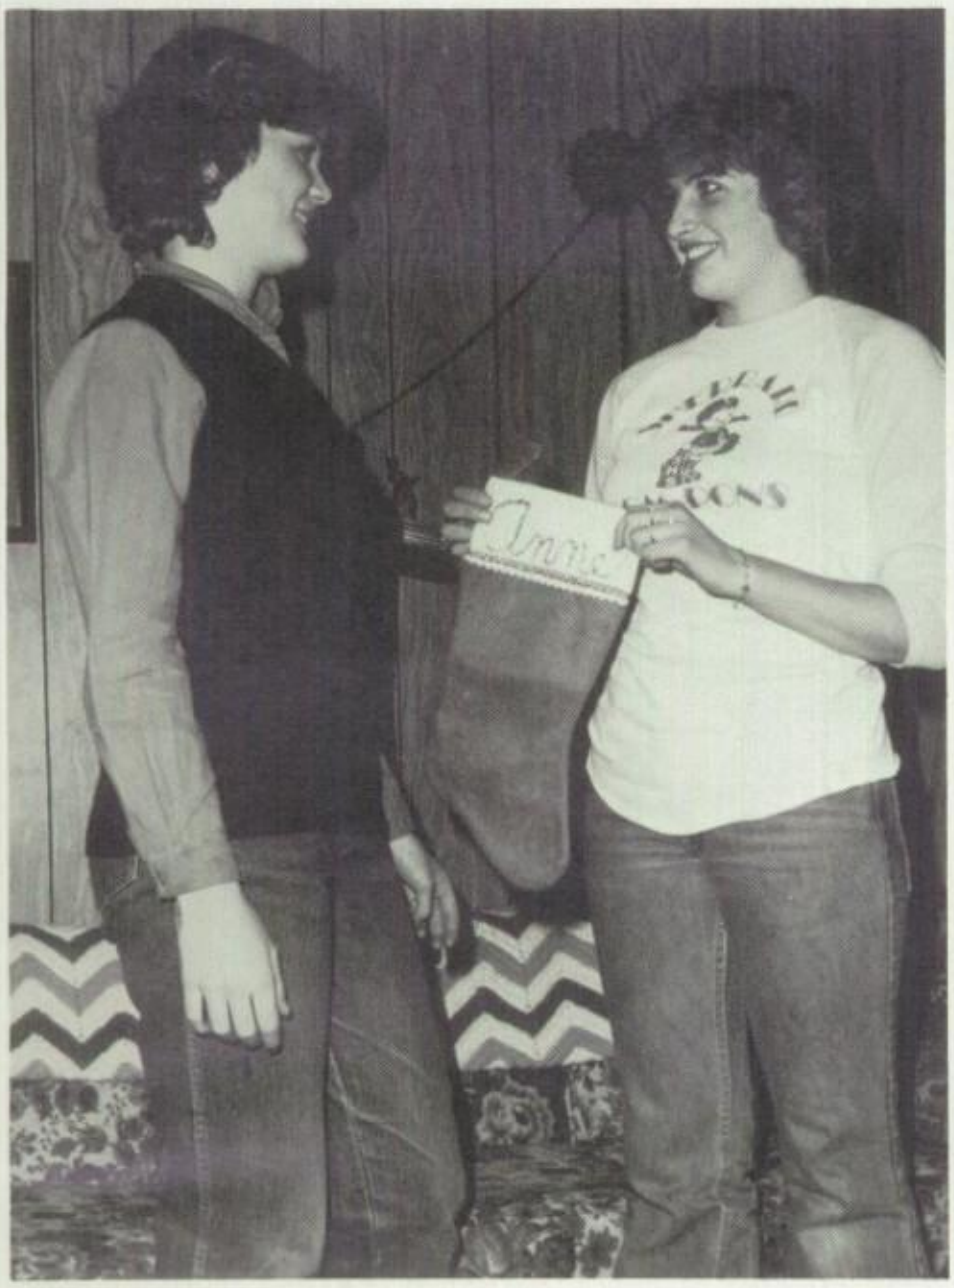
Seniors Enjoy Two Foreign Exchange Students

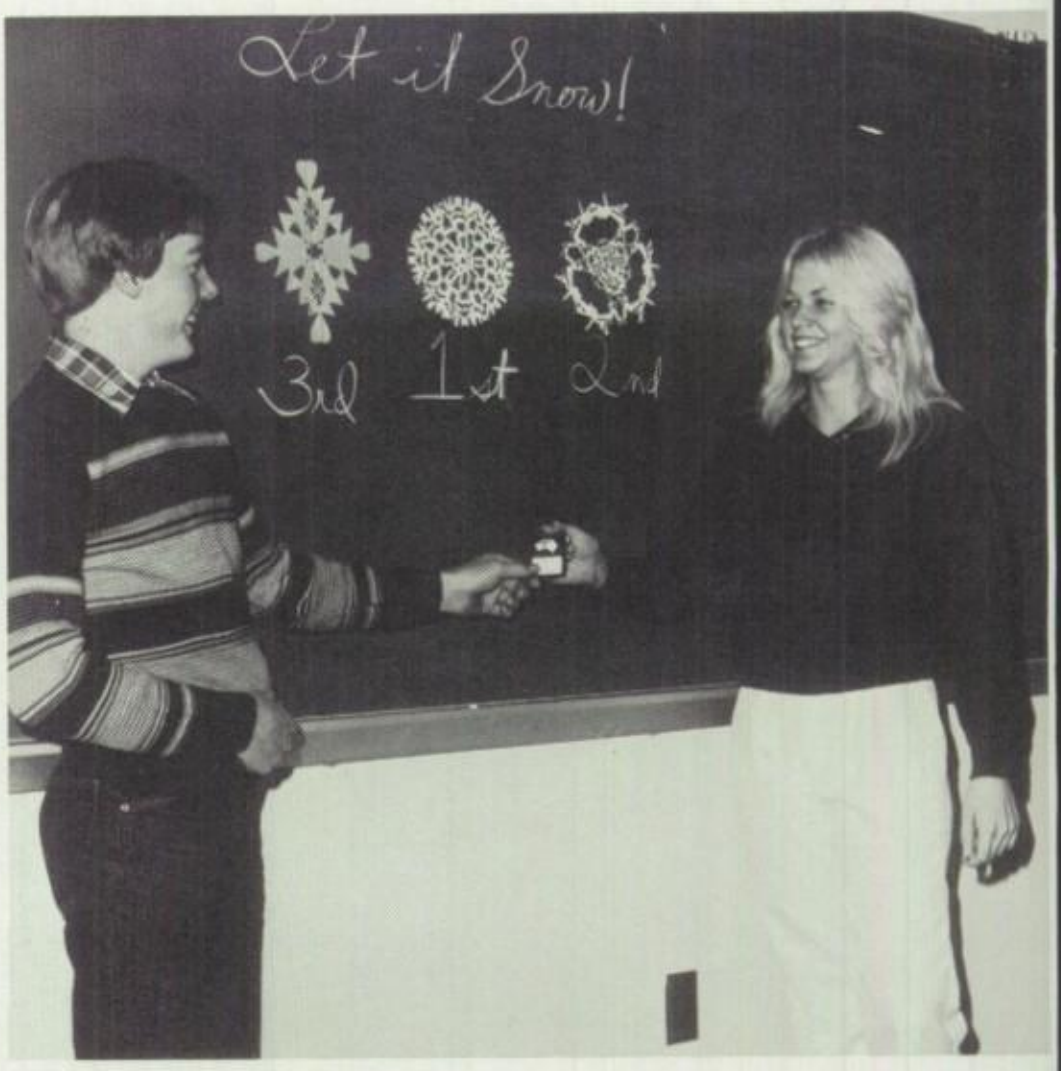
My name is Ann Lindell, and I'm from Malung, Sweden, which is not far from Norway. Malung is a small town, with 7,000 inhabitants. The mountains bring many tourists, especially for skiing. The largest industries are leather, sports equipment, and wool.

There are many differences between Swedish and American schools. We take more subjects a week than you do in America. English is compulsory from grade three on. For a second language most students choose either French or German. The food is free at school. During lunch hour and study hall, we can leave school or do whatever we want. There are rooms provided in school for table tennis, etc. The only school sports are hockey, soccer, and volleyball.

I want to thank everyone for making this such a wonderful year for me.

—Ann Lindell





My name is Rodney Johnstone, and I live in a family of six with two elder brothers and a younger sister. Warrnambool is my home town, and it is situated on the coast in the southwestern region of Victoria, Australia. The city has a population of 22,500 and is inflated to about 32,000 during the Christmas-summer holidays. The average summer temperature is approximately 80°F and in winter it drops to an average of 46°F. It rains quite a bit and can be very windy most of the year round. The people of Australia are much like Americans; they live similar and dress alike. The pace of life in America seems to be faster.

Our school system is different in that we have no Junior High. Our Primary school goes from grades 1-6 and Secondary from grades 7-12. When we reach Secondary level, we can choose to attend either a High School or a Technical School. After Secondary school we can then go on to University. We have very little sport between schools. Outside of school we have many sports ranging from boating to tennis. They are broken up into age groups. The main summer sport is cricket, and for winter it's Australian rules football. Basketball is the most popular indoor sport. We do not have a Homecoming or a Prom night. For entertainment people go to plays, movie theaters, weekend horse-racing, motor racing, dances and parties.

I have enjoyed my year long experience in America and would like to thank everyone for making it such a great time.

—Rodney Johnstone

Cheaper by the Dozen

Faculty Director—Cal Whitehurst
Assistant Director—Tom Swegle
Student Director—Beth Lehan

What are the trials and tribulations of growing up in a family of twelve children? How does it feel to be raised by a father who is an expert in motion study, having discovered that he can save four seconds by buttoning his vest from bottom to top? Why is it necessary for a young girl to defy her father to begin wearing silk stockings? These questions and others were answered in a funny and moving manner during this year's fall play, "Cheaper by the Dozen." After the death of their dad, two of the older children, Frank and Ernestine, helped us to look back at the events of their growing up. Overflow audiences in the auditorium smiled at Anne's first date with cheerleader Joe Scales, booed at the entrance of school board examiner Miss Brill, watched as the children maneuvered their father into buying a dog, and cried at Dad's final departure. "Cheaper by the Dozen" seemed to affect everyone, possibly because each person in the audience saw a little of their own childhood in the play.

"Let it be a challenge!" That's exactly what it was for Sylvia Barrett, a young attractive school teacher. Many hilarious and heartbreaking experiences took place at Calvin Coolidge High School. The overcrowded and understaffed New York City school was enrolled with a variety of students mainly from poor families. Sylvia kept busy with the hostile Joe Ferone and the frail suicidal Alice Blake. Sylvia cared deeply about her profession but also had a wonderful sense of the absurd which was one way she held onto her sanity. A lot of funny things happened at Calvin Coolidge High but as one critic suggested "It's the kind of funny that hurts!"

FFA Members Attend National Convention

On November 11 Mike Miller, Bev Johnston, Jo Ann Erickson, and I took a chartered bus to Kansas City chaperoned by Mr. Shimmin and his wife Karen to the National FFA Convention.

Once we got there, everywhere we looked we saw FFA jackets. Over 22,000 FFA members were there from all over the United States. We went to different sessions every day, and there were awards handed out to members who were outstanding in certain areas. There was also entertainment and speakers such as Art Linkletter and Hank Aaron. There was always something going on, and we were always on the move. We toured Gen eral Motors Assembly, Board of Trade, and we went t the Kansas City Chiefs' football stadium where w toured the stadium, the suites, and weight rooms. O the last day in Kansas City, we went to the Royal Amer ican Livestock Show and Rodeo. We ended the week b attending the FFA closing ceremonies and by having long ride home. The convention was really interestin and educational, and we all enjoyed it.

This is your first game, son. I hope you win. I hope you win for your sake and not mine because winning's nice. It's a good feeling as if the whole world is yours. But it passes, this feeling, and what lasts is what you learn, and what you learn is life. That's what sports are all about life. The whole thing is played out in an afternoon. The happiness of life, the miseries, the joys, the heartbreaks, there's no telling what'll turn up. Whether they'll lose you in the first five minutes or whether you'll stay for the long haul. There's no telling how you'll do. You might be a hero or you might be absolutely nothing. There's just no telling. Too much depends on chance on how the ball bounces. I'm not talking about the game, son. I'm talking about life. But it's life that the game is all about. Just as I said; because every game is life, and life is a game, a serious one. Dead serious. But that's what you do with serious things. You do your best. You take what comes, and you run with it. Winning is fun, sure. But winning is not the point. Wanting to win is the point. Not giving up is the point. Never being satisfied with what you've done is the point. Never letting up is the point. Never letting anyone down is the point. Play to win. Sure. But lose like a champion because it's not winning that counts. What counts is trying.

Graduation is so many things
It's laughter, smiles and cheers
It's speeches, songs and warm applause
It's fond farewells and tears
It's handshakes, hugs and compliments
From friends and faculty
It's lingering memories of the past
And plans for days to be
Graduation is so many things
All wrapped up into one
A dream fulfilled, a milestone crossed
A bright new life begun
